EMK Center

VIRTUAL EXHIBITION

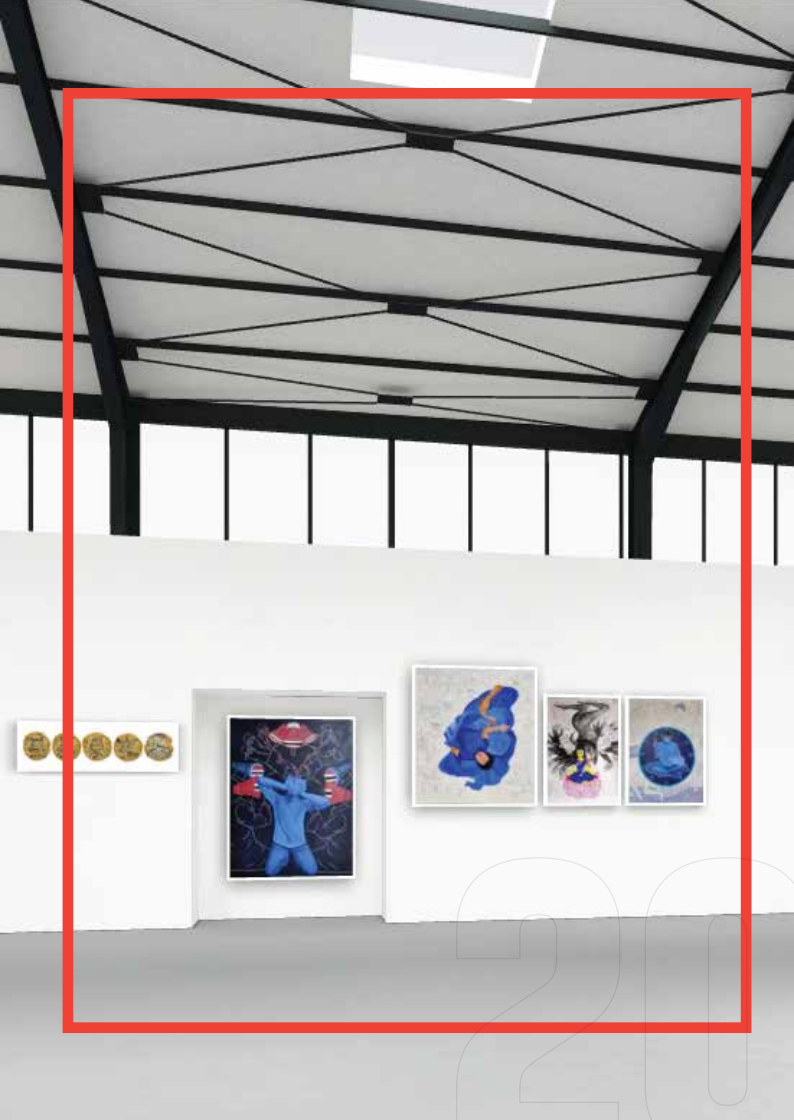

"If art is to nourish the roots of our culture, society must set the artist free to follow his vision wherever it takes him... We must never forget that art is not a form of propaganda; it is a form of truth." - John F. Kennedy

EMK Center's Virtual Exhibition

In order to promote US Values, EMK Center promotes human rights, freedom of speech, gender equality, pluralism, religious freedom which are embedded in the US values. In line with the overall objective of EMK Center, EMK Public Service and Arts organizes annual exhibition primarily to equip youth with a platform to showcase their creativity and to help them grow significantly in their artistic journey. When the sudden impact of Covid-19 pandemic overshadowed, EMK Center overpowered the limitations of organizing the exhibition physically and shifted to online platforms. By harnessing the power of technology, EMK Center has not only been able to safeguard participations from the remotest of areas of the country but also could attract global audience to involve in the exhibition closely. This exhibition is an opportunity for all art enthusiasts to spread out creatively. The guideline for the exhibition is as follows:
